

Roland Popp is Senior Researcher at the Center for Security Studies (CSS) at ETH in Zurich. His research focuses on Cold War history, the politics of nuclear proliferation and the international history of the Middle East.

His publications include articles in The International History Review and Middle East Journal. He is currently completing a monograph on "An Unconditional Alliance: The United States, Iran, and the Security of the Persian Gulf, 1941-1965."